TOPIC 3 — PAWNS IN ROCKEFELLER'S POWER GAME

1 Rockefeller withdrew from the vice-presidential race in late 1975.

My statement relates only to the vice presidency.

2 Beter predicted Rockefeller would enter the campaign on February 19.

That forecast did not come true.

3 Beter alleged a contest of pressure and blackmail among political camps.

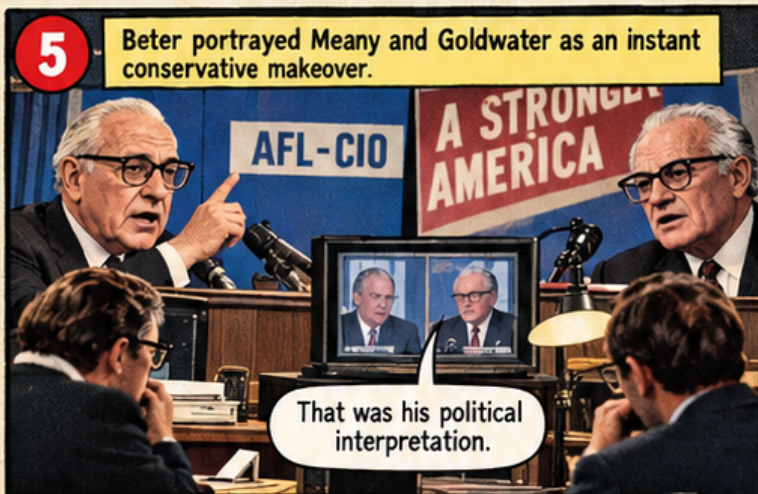

This is his allegation, not proven history.

4 He read Rockefeller's policy themes as a new New Deal.

Beter saw a campaign for expanded central power.

5 Beter portrayed Meany and Goldwater as an instant conservative makeover.

That was his political interpretation.

6 Bank failure and unemployment fed the atmosphere of economic anxiety.

Beter's unemployment estimate was not independently verified.

7 He warned of drought and grain shortages in another speculative forecast.

A warning still required evidence.

8 Beter predicted Ford's removal and a Rockefeller presidency.

That prediction failed; defend freedom through informed civic action.
